On the way out of the court-room Corbett crossed to where Mitchell was scated, and reaching out his hand said, with a pleasant smile: "Well groud by York. with a pleasant smile: "Well good-by "Good-by, Jim," said Mitch ell cordially, as he grasped Corbett's "I'll see you again, old man," remarked Corbett. "Sure thing, Jim," was the reply, and they separated.

Brady followed Corbett, shook hands with Mitchell, and hurried after his friends. It was fully twenty minutes after the departure of Corbett before Mitchell left and walked slowly back to his hotel.

"Do you know what I think of Jacksonville?" he said. "I think it is a mighty good place—to go through quick, and that's what I am going to do. I'm going to get out of here and go to New York at 2 o'clock, 4 o'clock, 5 ride on. Then in about two weeks I am going back to St. Augustine and enjoy myself."

the request of the New York Park Commissioners to take the work out of their hands.

Mitchell left the city at 2.25 on the Florida Central for Savannah, on his way to New York. He was accompanied by Billy Thompson. Billy Edwards, Jack Fogarty and a few others. Quite a crowd greeted him in the office of the Everett House when he came down from his room. A dozen friends pressed forward to greet him, and he met them all with a hearty grip of the hand and a pleasant word.

"I was in hard luck this time," he said, "and I guess I am done with the ring, as far as getting inside the ropes is concerned.

Before Corbett left town, which he did at 11.20, he expressed $18,000 to a Boston bank to be placed to his order. The remaining $2,000 he had changed into $100 bills, which he presented to his trainers, seconds and friends.

As he atepped aboard the train the champion was presented with a gold watch charm in the form of a globe representing the world, on this was inscribed: "To James J. Corbett, Champion of the—," the last word being supplied by the globe itself.

persed, the great battle still being the subject of conversation.

Considerable money was won and lost on the result of the fight at Jackson-ville, but owing to the small odds placed on Mitchell it does not amount to as much as in previous cases of like importance. About $30,000 passed through Hookmaker Stedeker's hands, while outside bets probably amounted to as much more. Al Smith is supposed to have won more than any one else, but the exact amount is not known, it is not thought that any one went broke.

Yesterday Billy Thompson, Mitchell's manager, received from a friend, a wholesale liquor dealer in Louisville, Ky., an express package containing a bottle of brandy and a letter of good wishes for the Englishman, ending with the following paragraph;

After the contest was over, the genia Billy, somewhat disheartened, but stil able to appreciate humor, wired to his friend the following sententious message "Brandy was not old enough."

The consideration of the Tariff bill was then resumed, the pending amendment being to fix Oct. 1 as the date on which the doil and toy schedule should go into effect.

Mr. Lockwood (Dem., N. Y.) offered an amendment to the amendment to increase the duty from 25 to 25 per cent. ad valorem. He explained that he offered it in the interest of $1,000,000 revenue and of the thousands of women and children who were employed in making toys.

Mr. Cannon replied hotly and Mr. Hunter finally withdrew his remark.

Scarcely was this excitement over, when Mr. Cummings (Dem., N. Y.) stirred up a new sensation in an impassioned speech reflecting rather severely upon his colleague. Mr. Cockran, (Dem., N. Y.)

Its character justified him. There was, however, one feature of the system of taxation that had governed in the preparation of the bill for which he was glad to nyow a resposibility. It was to look neither to the oppression nor to the benefit of a class in making up schedules. This rule has governed the case. The Compatitee had looked alone to the question of revenue. The testimony of the Treasury experts, as well as importers had been conclusive that its per cent, was the revenue point. A higher duty would encourage smusging.

The mystery of the visits of Mrs. Lucy McCarthy, of 104 and 106 West Forty-ninth street, to the Grand Jury room is gradually being cleared up. It has been shown pretty conclusively that when her resort was raided last December she paid out a sum of money to secure immunity from trial and consequent punishment. The amount in ques-tion is said to have been $2,000.

The name of her counsel, John C. Munzinger, of Harlem, has been mentioned as that of one of the persons under investigation by the Grand Jury. He, it is said, is suspected of having handled the $2,000 paid to procure "im-To-day's developments in this interest-

This fact seems to have been brought out at the session of the Grand Jury yesterday, for early to-day Chief Clerk Flyan, of the District-Attorney's office, was set to work to discover if the papers in Mrs. McCarthy's case had ever-reached the District-Attorney's office.

To the surprise of Mr. Flynn and his assistants, as well as to District-Attorv, ney Fellows, no trace whatever could be found of the papers.
